The New York Department of Financial Services seeks to build an equitable, more transparent and resilient financial system that benefits New Yorkers and supports business. Through engagement, data-driven regulation, and operational excellence, DFS is responsible for empowering consumers and protecting them from financial harm; ensuring the health and stability of the financial entities we regulate; and driving economic growth through responsible innovation.

The Department of Financial Services is seeking candidates for the position of Associate Attorney Financial Services in the Investigations and Intelligence Division. Duties include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Conducts due diligence research in connection with license applications of student loan servicing, money services, and cryptocurrency businesses;
- Researches and reviews public records, including court records and case law, enforcement actions, sanctions, company filings, news articles, UCC filings, liens, judgments and bankruptcy filings and other relevant findings that involve the applicants, their related companies, control parties, officers, and directors;
- Issues clearly written memoranda comprised of findings with facts and analysis to support the recommendations upon which the business units of the Department may rely for their licensing decisions;
- Assists in reviewing the work of less experienced staff;
- Participates in the investigations of cybersecurity incidents reported by licensed entities, in connection with Department's Cybersecurity Compliance Regulation, 23 NYCRR Part 500, and drafts concise memoranda of findings from each inquiry; and
- Other duties as assigned.
